MB Marco Bottarelli

MB My name is Marco Bottarelli. Italian. Went to university in Venice, which is a lovely place to go to university. Studied chemistry there. And suddenly I saw this advert in the paper about this company that makes Rexona, Lux soap and Axe deodorant. Got there for an interview, and discovered with great pleasure that what they were doing was they were trying to recruit people to start working directly in the UK, in their laboratory, in Port Sunlight. Wonderful for an Italian, who is trying to become a bit more international.
