SUPPLY CHAIN AT UNILEVER

Growth through innovation is at the heart of Unilever’s deodorant strategy and supply chain is key to delivering this. Our leading supply chain needs to be the most responsive and resilient in the industry to remain competitive. We are the beating heart of Unilever, playing a vital role in getting our goods across the world. From sourcing raw materials to delivering the end products and every stage in between; an effective supply chain is crucial to our success.

Here at Unilever Leeds, you will see how a global supply chain operates with exposure to the end-to-end process. Its complexity presents many challenges and opportunities to Unilever which need to be successfully managed.
