

Transparency in our UK & Ireland tea supply chain

As the biggest buyer of tea across the world, we are committed to continuing to make our tea supply chain more sustainable. This starts with caring about the people who pick our tea leaves and goes all the way through to how we blend our tea, our packaging and the environmental impact tea production has on our planet.

Knowing where our tea comes from is the starting point for any action that makes a positive impact where it matters most. We source tea from all around the world. For the brands listed above, sold in the UK and Ireland, 100% of our tea comes from Rainforest Alliance certified farms.

We collaborate closely with many partners, including our suppliers, NGOs and local and national governments. In 2017, we became a member of the Ethical Tea Partnership (ETP), a not-for-profit organisation that brings together the world's most influential tea businesses to create a fairer, better and more sustainable tea industry for tea workers, farmers and the environment.

A large amount of our tea is grown in our own plantations in Kenya. The rest we buy directly from large tea producers, auctions or via brokers.

As a next step in our journey to become more transparent, we are happy to share this information with all of you who drink and love our tea. On the interactive map, you can find out more about where we source our tea and how we are working with partners to improve the lives of people working in tea.
